

Deutsche Rohstoff identifies, develops and divests attractive resource projects in North America, Australia and Europe. The focus is on the development of oil and gas opportunities within the United States. Metals, such as gold, copper, rare earth elements, tungsten and tin complete our portfolio. We create sustainable shareholder value by utilizing the opportunities presented in the commodity market.

Our teams in Denver, Mannheim and Leipzig have extensive experience in the exploration & development of natural resource projects. In the United States, we were able to bring a total of 20 oil wells into production within the past three years. In Australia, we operated a gold mine and a tungsten mine.

Since the IPO in May 2010, we have placed several capital raisings and a corporate bond with a total volume of EUR 80 million. During this time, we were able to sell four of our projects with proceeds of USD 250 million and a pre-tax profit of around USD 150 million. Deutsche Rohstoff is solidly financed and has a high equity ratio.

Intern (f/m)

You will support our team in managing existing investments and the development and financing of new or existing projects. Due to the small team in our headquarters in Mannheim, you will be able to work closely with our management and our permanent staff of industry experts.

Your duties

- Participation in all strategic and administrative matters
- Support of live M&A transactions
- Creation of financing models and presentations
- Research within the oil & gas and mining & metals sector
- Observation of relevant commodity markets
- General support of the members of the executive board

Your profile

- Students at least in the 3rd semester of the accountancy, business, economics or finance discipline preferably with initial corporate finance knowledge
- Ideally you have already completed first internships in the areas of financing, business development, consulting or in the commodities sector
- High work ethic, attention to detail as well as a high degree of flexibility

- Strong analytical skills problem-solving skills
- You move in your social and professional environment communicative and self-assured
- You provide a high degree of autonomy and initiative
- You are very proficient in the use of the major Office applications (MS Word, MS Excel, MS power point)
- Fluent English in speaking and writing

The period of the internship should be at least 2-6 months, to enable you to participate in long term projects and a comprehensive insight into our global activities.

The position offers you the rare opportunity to gain valuable experiences and insights in a young and fast-growing company in the global commodity sector. You will have the chance to acquire a deep understanding and knowledge within the industry while helping us to be entrepreneurial and achieve operational excellence.

We look forward to receiving your electronic application in PDF format with cover letter, curriculum vitae, certificates and proof of additional qualifications.

For further information or if you have any questions please do not hesitate to contact us via our designated career email (karriere@rohstoff.de).

Deutsche Rohstoff AG

Q7, 24

68161 Mannheim

Phone 0621 490 817 0

Mail karriere@rohstoff.de